

A classic line from the movie “Stripes” and a powerful psychological health strategy, LIGHTEN UP FRANCIS is a reminder not to take things too seriously, to give people the benefit of the doubt, and keep your focus on what really matters. This decreases levels of stress and anxiety, improving both psychological and physical health, as well as your relationships with others. #MilPsychJargon